ASA Hall of Fame Stadium
Oklahoma City, Okla.

POSTGAME NOTES

Game 10: Washington 4, Michigan 1

- In the 10th game of the 2013 Women's College World Series, No. 11 NCAA Tournament seed Washington (45-16) defeated No. 8 seed Michigan (51-13) by a 4-1 score to eliminate the Wolverines.
- Washington improved to 2-1 in the 2013 WCWS and to 22-18 all-time in the event. The Huskies will face Oklahoma Sunday at 8:30 p.m. CT. Michigan finished this year's WCWS at 1-2 and fell to 9-20 all-time.
- Washington now holds a 9-8 all-time series lead against Michigan. Earlier this season, the Wolverines defeated the Huskies 6-1 on March 14 at the Judi Garman Classic in Fullerton, Calif.
- Today's game marked the second time the two teams have met in the WCWS. Michigan won the first meeting 6-5 in 2002.
- Washington improved to 24-0 this year when leading after six innings, while the Wolverines fell to 28-2 when leading after five innings.
- The game was scoreless through four-and-a-half innings before Michigan plated the first run on a Jaclyn Crummey two-out single that scored Sierra Lawrence from third base. Crummey finished 2-for-2 in the game. The hits and the RBI were career postseason firsts for the senior.
- Washington responded with four runs in the top of sixth inning. Kimberlee Souza tied the game for the Huskies on an RBI single in the sixth inning before Kylee Lahners added an RBI double. It marked the first time Lahners reached base since the regional championship game against Hawaii. Junior Whitney Jones also added an RBI for the Huskies.
- Washington's Hooch Fagaly and Shawna Wright each recorded their first hits of the WCWS today. Fagaly singled in the first inning, while Wright singled in the second.
- Washington's seven hits were its most since the regional championship game against Hawaii.
- Washington junior pitcher Bryana Walker improved to 20-7 on the season, reaching the 20-win mark for the first time in her career. She is 5-0 in the postseason with a 1.00 ERA. In Sunday's contest, she gave up one run on four hits and three walks while registering seven strikeouts.
- Michigan sophomore pitcher Sara Driesenga (31-9) allowed four runs on six hits and two walks while striking out three in the loss.
- Sunday's Session 5 attendance was 8,712.
